

Appendix 8-1

Acknowledgments

The Program Review Team extends its appreciation to all those who supported this study over the last three months.

First, the Team thanks the many NOAA employees who submitted thoughtful responses to the Administrator's questions and provided the foundation of this report. Their responses often reflected concerns, but also expressed optimism that a brighter future for NOAA is possible.

We also thank the members of the analytical staff who worked hard to research the issues for focused PRT discussions and compiled the final report from the results of the PRT sessions. In particular, the Team recognizes the leadership and sustained superior performance of Peyton Robertson and Mark Paese who led the staff throughout, especially during the report formulation.

Lynne Carbone and Associates facilitated PRT discussions, coordinated Team meetings, and delivered session products. Lynne and her staff did an outstanding job of sustaining forward progress and maintaining organization in a challenging environment.

Captain Rich Behn of the Deputy Under Secretary's office is also recognized for his support of this process from the beginning to the end. The production of this Report would not have been possible without the outstanding work of Mike Walker, and special recognition is due to Janet Ward for producing the Report cover.

Some efforts, such as the development of a requirements-based management process, required expertise outside of the PRT. The Team thanks the many individuals whose expertise and support was invaluable. Their confidentiality during the process is appreciated.

Finally, the PRT thanks the alternates who were called upon to attend sessions in place of the primary PRT member. In some cases, the alternates were required to come up a steep learning curve and provide products with a short turnaround. Their dedication to the process is appreciated.
